The action of President Cleveland on the Bond bill which passed the Senate by an overwhelming vote, shows conclusively that he belongs body and soul to the Gold Kings of Wall street. The people of Nevada were fortunate in securing so able and active a Senator as William M. Stewart to attend to their interests, but through the power of Mr. Cleveland, the bill will not be reported from the House during this session of Congress. We are in receipt of documents which show that the House is largely in favor of the passage of the bill, but with the speaker, Mr. Carlisle, and the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, Mr. Mills, in opposition the bill will not be reported to the House for its action. The Administration has issued its orders and these satellites of Cleveland have responded to the call. The fact that the people of the United States are in favor of the Silver bill, as passed by the Senate, makes no difference to these men, who are anxious to attend to the commands of the President. The time is near at hand when the voice of the people will be heard in such a way as will not be misinterpreted, and the gold ring which has control of the government, will meet such a defeat as will settle this question for some time. The money trust of this country has the most fearful power for evil, and has used it to the detriment of every interest in the country. It has caused silver to be demonetized and in consequence the bonds have been enhanced in value. The passage of the Bond bill now before the House Committee, of Ways and Means, would relieve the necessities of the country and as the bonds are retired silver certificates would take their place, and keep the amount of circulation on a proper basis, but so long as a mere creature of Wall street occupies the Presidential chair such a bill cannot be expected to become a law.

THE RENO GAZETTE makes quite a little fuss because the Tribune thinks C. S. Young too young for Congress, but the real reason for this paper objecting to Young's nomination is that it would make a regular walk over for George Cassidy.

That's good Democracy, Deacon. Strengthen George Cassidy as much as possible, keep on saying Cassidy is strong, but give none other than a woman's reason: "I think him so, because I think him so." THE GAZETTE, however, is a Republican paper and in view of not only of the vital political issues involved in the coming campaign, but also in view of the fact that for reasons the corporations have dropped Cassidy like a hot potato and the leaders of his own party denounce him, there are in this State at least one hundred Republicans, any one of whom, if nominated, could walk all over Cassidy, and not even the strong arm of the Tribune could save him from being trampled into the mud and mire way out of sight.

CLEVELAND has brought pressure upon a protectionist Pennsylvania Democrat by vetoing his bill for a public building in his district. This is becoming business for the President of the United States. Mr. Cleveland revives his memories of "my policy." He would arrogate to himself legislative as well as executive functions. Fifteen years ago the Democrats were howling against "Cassarianism." Now they propose to continue in power its most pronounced exponent.

THE South is already in the saddle, even before the first gun is fired in the coming political campaign. Coming, as it does, right on the eve of a great national contest, but little stock can be taken in the story sent out from Alabama that there has been an uprising of negroes, who threaten to massacre the whites. It is about time for the South to get up a new story; that about the negro uprisings is too old for any use.

THE New York Sun calls attention to the somewhat singular fact that all the Presidential aspirants who at the same time have been members of the United States Senate, not one has received the nomination in the past thirty years. None of the Republican Presidents was taken from the Senate. Garfield had been elected Senator from Ohio, but was chosen President before he had taken his seat.

—The Standard says that Farnell's disclosure of the plan of campaign has offended a section of his followers.

Stewart's Chinese Exclusion Bill.

General Alger and the Presidency.

The Agricultural Experiment Station Bill Modified—Boulanger's Views—Etc.

THE CHINESE QUESTION.

A Bill Framed to Carry Out the Treaty Provisions.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Senator Dolph and Senator Stewart have prepared a Chinese Exclusion bill which will be introduced in the Senate today. The bill is intended to carry out the provisions of the new Chinese treaty, and Senator Stewart thinks that it will effectively prevent the landing of any Chinese laborers, who are not entitled under the new treaty to enter the United States. The new bill provides that the provisions of the bill shall go into operation immediately upon its passage. This is intended to exclude all Chinese who have left the country with certificates and who have not returned. It also provides that Chinese laborers who are entitled to return, having either a family or $1,000 in this country, shall be entitled to land only at the following ports: Portland, Oregon; San Francisco, California; Boston, Massachusetts; New York and New Orleans. The bill is made up from the other bills which have been presented to Congress at this session by Murray, Fulton, Belmont, Mitchell and Stewart.

GENERAL ALGER.

His Efforts to Secure the Republican Nomination.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—General Russell A. Alger of Michigan seems to be laboring with almost as much solicitude as Senator Sherman to secure the nomination for President. Alger's friends have claimed that in a pinch he could rely upon the support of the California delegation to the Chicago Convention, but so far as can be learned here the California Republicans of political prominence are almost ignorant of the existence of such a person as General Alger. Yesterday the National Veteran Club of this city sent a telegram to the President of the Alger Club of Detroit, saying that the former organization had adopted resolutions declaring Alger to be the successor of Logan in the hearts of Veteran Volunteers and the loyal people of the North. To this message a reply has been received from the President of the Alger Club of Detroit, saying that General Alger deeply appreciates the regard of his old comrades and thanking them for their action.

NATURAL GAS EXPLOSION.

A Fine Cathedral Destroyed in the City of Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 11.—This morning was a decidedly sensational and disastrous one in Buffalo. A number of explosions of natural gas occurred almost simultaneously (caused by over pressure) and created widespread excitement, besides destroying St. Paul's cathedral, the pride and glory of the city. The explosion occurred in a furnace in the basement of the cathedral, which was valued at about $250,000; insurance, $60,000. An explosion also took place in the kitchen of Dr. Pierce's hotel, a mile away from the cathedral, and the building was badly damaged.

Agricultural Stations With Colleges.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Those persons interested in agricultural stations established in connection with colleges in the several States will be pleased to learn that the House has passed a bill to authorize the Governors of States to assist to the payment of such installation of appropriations as may be due. In this connection the original Act provided that these payments could only be made upon the assent of the Legislatures in the various States. The bill passed today removes the severest States to avail themselves at once of the provisions of the Act and avoid inconvenient delays.

The Suez Convention.

LONDON, May 11.—The Turkish Cabinet has approved the Anglo-French Suez Convention. It is stated that the Porte abandons its claims to the Suez Canal, and that England recognizes Turkey's right to use the Suez Canal for the transportation of troops to Asia.

Boulanger's Opinion.

PARIS, May 11.—General Boulanger, in his book, strongly condemns colonial adventures, and says: "As long as Alsace-Lorraine is not restored to us, we have no right to divide our forces, especially when the advantages aimed at are not quite clear."

Utilizing the Owyhee.

The Silver State says the project of utilizing the waters of the Owyhee river, which now runs to sea, is assuming a practical turn. H. J. Pratt of the Jordan Valley Stock Company, has gone to locate a water right on that stream. A survey will soon be made, and it is found that the water of the river can be brought into the over end of Paradise Valley at a cost not exceeding $600,000, the amount will be subscribed by prominent stockmen and work commenced at once on the canal.

Mike Mead, one of the owners of the Young America mine in Sierra county, California, passed through Reno last night en route to the Bay.

Many ladies admire gray hair on some of our men—but whose fairy is it that colors their own hair? The hair of a young man's hair will rest on gray hair to its original color. Sold by drug stores and perfumers.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The Senate has passed the Unearned Land Grant Extension bill.

—Governor Hill of New York today vetoed the High License bill.

—The trial of Dillon, under the Crimes Act, began at Tullyville yesterday.

—The steamer Belvia, with a party of Mexican pilgrims bound for Rome, arrived at Naples May 10.

—The bill appropriating $150,000 for the government's participation in the Centennial celebration of the settlement of the Ohio valley, has passed.

—Senator Stewart has given notice that he would at the first opportunity introduce the consideration of the bill to admit Washington Territory to Statehood.

—Advices from Berber say that the rebels in Benin district have defeated, after severe fighting, the forces of the Fashid Maginnes. The Fashid was among the killed.

—The Supreme Court of Illinois has affirmed the decision of the Lower Courts in the county bondholders' case, and the defendants will now have to serve their term of sentence.

—General Colby of N-branks has purchased of U. S. Grant, Jr., the Arabian stallion, Linden Tree, which was presented to General Grant by the Sultan of Turkey, when on his trip around the world.

—John G. Crawford, who killed Martin Van Buren Burke, a San Francisco restaurant keeper, was convicted yesterday of murder in the first degree, and a penalty being imposed for life.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Governor C. C. Stevenson is not a candidate for Congress.

Theodore Winters is mentioned for delegate to the St. Louis Convention.

Hon. C. H. E. Hardin is looking after his fences in Humboldt county.

It is thought by politicians that Bartine will be the "dark horse" in the Republican nomination for Congress.

Hon. E. V. Spencer of Susanville is the prospective Republican candidate for the Assembly in Modoc and Lassen counties, California.

A man has more bullocks than brains who attempt to run for Congress on the Democratic ticket in Nevada this year.—Appeal

Now is the time for candidates to make their announcements. Get in the field and let it be known that you want to serve the people.

The Convention should honor Washoe county by electing C. C. Powning a delegate to the National Republican Convention.

George A. Carpenter, editor of the Austin (Laurel) Advertiser, is a candidate before the Republican County Convention for the Assembly.

The Oseola (White Pine) Democrats elected T. W. Mooney as delegate to the State Convention, and passed strong anti-Cleveland resolutions.—Taylor News.

J. J. Reavis of Dixie valley will probably be the Democratic nominee for Assemblyman in the district composed of Lassen and Modoc counties, California.—Glacier News.

Senator Stewart, laboring as he is in the interest of silver and the State of Nevada, should be sent as a delegate to the National Convention at Chicago. It would strengthen his influence and materially assist his work for the State.—Central Nevada.

The names of J. M. Campbell of Virginia, Charles Friend of this city, and Senator Fish of Reno have been mentioned as good timber for the State of the University. The Carson Appeal is of the opinion that the convention need seek no further in this matter. Nominate them by acclamation.

The question now is, will Mr. Woodburn be a candidate for Congress or will he not? If we are to believe Mr. Woodburn he will not; but according to the Enterprise, which seems to know all the crooks and turns of this political labyrinth, he will be a candidate.—Silver State.

CLARA BELLE'S CASE.

Testimony for the Plaintiff Nearly All in.

The plaintiff's side of the McDonald divorce case is drawing near to a close. The proceedings yesterday morning, according to the San Francisco Post, exceeded, if anything, the monotony of the past two days, and disclosed absolutely nothing new in character. Mrs. McDonald still retains that remarkable composure that has characterized her demeanor all along, and she seems to feel a keen enjoyment at whatever turns up of a spicy nature, no matter if it is at her expense.

Richard, on the other hand, is growing more and more tired—in fact, the feeling has developed into real nervousness, and he flounders around in his chair as though a slow and vexatious flame was playing under it.

The court witness called this morning was C. T. F. Macfarland, the detective, and his examination, though fruitful of nothing startling, has been very close and penetrating, especially by the defense. It is apparent, of course, that he is introduced simply to pile up cumulative evidence, but it is able to tell nothing not already told a dozen times.

Mr. Macfarland has, like Gammore, made the Gallagher home his rendezvous while watching the movements of Clara Belle. What we saw took place last November, during the brief period that he was granted a leave of absence from the secret service to enter the employ of Mr. McDonald. He testified that he had many times seen Swalm drive up a small cul-de-sac in the rear of 816 Half street, in the afternoon and evening, and he was granted a leave of absence from the secret service to enter the employ of Mr. McDonald. He testified that he had many times seen Swalm drive up a small cul-de-sac in the rear of 816 Half street, in the afternoon and evening, and he was granted a leave of absence from the secret service to enter the employ of Mr. McDonald.

He had seen or twice seen Swalm drive up accompanied by a friend, and when they halted the friend would alight, would go his way, and Swalm would take his lady companion and drive off. He gave testimony to corroborate the statements of the Gallaghers, that he had several times seen Swalm go to Mrs. McDonald's apartments at night, and remain until the following morning. Further than this he could say nothing. He had never seen the interior of the apartments, mentioned and knew nothing of what happened there during Swalm's visits.

—A dispatch from Rome says the Irish Bishops have notified the Vatican of their adherence to the papal rescript. Earl Spencer, in a speech at Guildford last night, said no one could see the reception to Parnell's programme. The only course open was to subscribe to its sentiments.

THE TWIN CANDIDATE.

A Politician Who is Endeavoring to Carry Water on Both Shoulders.

An industrious gentleman from an eastern county is traveling over the State with the singular purpose of accomplishing the nomination of George W. Cassidy, on both the Republican and Democratic tickets. This astute as well as industrious gentleman knows, of course, that his friend cannot be divided between the parties, thus putting half a man in each convention, and in order to make an even number he wishes to add to Mr. Cassidy's personality by placing his shadow on the Republican ticket, and making a curiosity that would attract large numbers of people to a political twin. It is almost a pity to spoil a plan so carefully matured and so diligently followed—to spoil it when nearly finished, when the odd composition is so nearly ready for exhibition—but the Republican party is not in the show business, and is unwilling to take up a license so late in the season. As a single instance of man's ingenuity, the nomination of a Republican alternate to a Democratic candidate would be entertaining and instructive to students of party manipulation, but the case for sight-seeing among the people is not equal to the reluctance that is shown towards engaging in experiments for the creation of grotesque patterns while the homespun, dyed-in-the-wool candidate can be seen without danger of exposure or burned fingers. The party will deeply regret being obliged to disapprove those energetic and progressive gentlemen who have labored so assiduously for the voters, but it has work in hand which must be done, and the party will go out on a holiday to look at a strange spectacle.—Enterprise.

PICK AND DRILL.

The "Gazette's" Weekly Summary of Mining News.

Concentrating works are to be built at Tuscarora.

Butte, Montana, bullion shipments last week were valued at $100,000.

The Monitor-Belmont mill will soon be started up on ore from the Barcelona mine, Nevada.

Death Valley is warming with prospectors in quest of the mythical Borehole mining district.

The amount of custom ore shipped to the furnaces in Eureka during the past six months was about 5,000 tons.

A small shipment of ore taken to the furnace from the Nevada mine, Pine Mountain, worked at the rate of $1,000 per ton.

It is expected that active operations will be resumed in the Chicago M. & E. Company's mine, Ophir canyon, early this summer.

The reports from Pine Grove, Esmeralda county, are very cheering concerning the mines, and not an idle man is to be found in the district.

A blast furnace is to be put up on the Colorado beach, to work ore from beds on the Atlantic & Pacific road, about 200 miles from San Diego.

They now have thirty machine air drills at work in the Drummond mine, Montana, representing a manual crew equal to 300 men if drilling by hand.

Clarence L. King, the eminent geologist, is at Hot Creek, Eureka county, examining mining property in the interest of a Palisades mining company.

The concentrating mill at Selman, White Pine county, is completed, and when the tramway from the mines to the mill is finished all will be ready to start up.

The Esmeralda News notes the development of a two-ton vein of quartz in the Bright Light mine, Hawthorne district, from which $5 gold nuggets were extracted.

Over at Silver Reef, Utah, they are working a mysterious process of working their sandstone ore by concentrating the sun's rays in some manner not explained.

We recommend those who intend to apply for United States patents and want to save doing an assessment work for this year, to commence their applications before June 1.

The indications of hidden wealth in the Jefferson, Belmont, Spanish Bell, San Antonio, Monitor and Tolyah canyons, Nye county, are numerous, says the Belmont Courier.

The Nye County Mining Company of Tybo are shipping a lot of matte to the reduction works here. They are getting four new patent ore feeders, which were loaded for Tybo last Monday.

During the fiscal year ending February 29, 1898, the bullion producing mines of the Comstock lode paid the United Tunnel Company a total of $2,250 in royalties for ore extracted.

The Imperial company last week declared a stock dividend of 775 shares for each 100, or at the rate of 62 1/2 per cent. The extra stock has been in the treasury of the company for some time past.

The Douglas mill, at Dayton, made a clean up last week after a run of six weeks on tailings under the Ray and also cleaned a vein of over one pound of quicksilver to the ton over the old system.

A body of free milling ore was found on the ninth level of the Yuba mine, Lincoln county last week. It is saved at a low rate and was made from it range from 60 to 2,000 ounces per ton in silver.

William Pryde and John Judge have discovered a lead in the south end of Winnemucca mountain, where they call the Blizzards. It is three feet wide on the surface and carries gold and silver.—Silver State.

The suit of Huch McCallmont against the Suto Tunnel Company has been removed to the United States District Court. The action is on a mortgage and involves over a million and a half dollars, and the principal draws $10,000 interest per month.

Messrs. Wood & Coffin are having a batch of 30 tons of ore extracted from the Pandora mine, Junco district, crushed in arrastra at the Merrimac mill site on the Carson river. The ore is expected to produce about $600 per ton in gold, and the 30 tons will net the owners about $10,000 a splendid return for six months' labor of two men.

A Southern Pacific Statement.

The report of the Board of Directors of the Southern Pacific Company for the year ending December 31, 1897, has just been made public. It shows that during the year 5,576.04 miles of road were operated, of which $,888.88 belonged to the Pacific system and 1,687.16 to the Atlantic system.

General Manager Towne's report shows that in 1897 there were carried 7,840,243,080 pounds of freight, an increase of 11.01 per cent. over the previous year, and 10,163,462 passengers, against 9,174,010 in 1896. The increase in local travel was 26.02 per cent. and in ferry travel 5.94 per cent. The gross earnings were: $37,930,161.51; operating expenses, $22,712,198.53; rentals received, $374,081.12; rentals paid $1,911,650.55; taxes, $1,022,253.41; earnings over operating expenses, $15,217,963.25; balance surplus, $12,858,750.40.

The statement of assets and liabilities shows 1,201,599 shares of railroad and steamship stock, costing $88,665,820; other stocks and bonds, $1,090,000; cars, $1,272,068.01. Sundry other assets bring the value up to $102,445,181.48. Among the liabilities are $89,027,770 in stock outstanding; interest due, $3,257,918.87, and sundry other items, bringing the total up to $101,045,383.58, exclusive of the net surplus.

A Fatal Shooting at Boca.

Tuesday evening at Boca Billy Keyes shot and fatally wounded Jack Paten. Both are woodmen. There has been a great deal of rioting of late between German brewery hands and Irish lumbermen. Flaming no German opposition, the river men got to quarrelling among themselves, and the shooting of Paten was the outgrowth of a prior quarrel. Paten lingered in great agony until 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The shooter is in jail.

That Ball Game.

"I see by your 'Town Talk' that the Reno Gazette complains that you had nothing to say about the ball game we played in Reno last Sunday," said one of the disgusted excursionists yesterday. "You just tell them this for me. They wrote, begged and telegraphed us twice to go down to play them, agreeing to pay our expenses there if we got a team. We ran up a scrub nine and went down in a team. There was no one there to meet us. Inquiring for the ball field, some one said, 'Over there.' We finally found our way 'over there' and the Reno boys soon after arrived. After the game they all mysteriously disappeared in an instant. Don't Reno!"

"Town Talk" informant must be a lineal descendant of Ananias, "Beck" says so, and that settles it. In view of the amount of kicking which the Comstockers have indulged in since the game, "Mickey" Timmons' gag of "Why don't you go, now" was peculiarly appropriate. The next time the Virginia boys play ball in Reno "Beck" says a ke of beer will be placed on third base. "Then they'll go home satisfied, by."

HIS BOND.

A Ranchero's Simple Guaranty for Payment.
Hides and tallow, with a few furs, were the staple articles of commerce between the Californians and the trading vessels which frequented the coast before the gold-discovery. Business was conducted in a straight-forward manner between the merchants and the residents. The purchaser never had occasion to ask the price, for the seller quietly named it at once, and it was declined or accepted without more ado. This natural confidence is well illustrated by the following incident given in Hubert Howe Bancroft's California Pastoral. A merchant and ship owner, Aguirre, once had as supercargo a young man, who was a stranger and ignorant of the customs which prevailed in California. While the ship lay at San Pedro, with Aguirre absent on shore, a well-to-do ranchero, Machado, who was a man of sterling character, but who could neither read nor write, went on board to make purchases, leaving his carts at the landing. After the goods had been selected he was about to place them in a launch to be conveyed to the shore, but the supercargo stopped him and asked for some payment, or guaranty, or note in hand. Machado stated at once in great astonishment, being unable at first to comprehend what the man meant. Such a demand had never been made from him before, nor in fact from any other ranchero. After a while the idea struck him that he was distrusted. Plucking one hair from his beard, he seriously handed it to the supercargo, saying, "Here, deliver this to Señor Aguirre, and tell him it is a hair from the beard of Augustin Machado. It will cover your responsibility." The young man felt much abashed, took the hair and placed it inside his book, and permitted Machado to carry away his goods. On hearing that the supercargo had demanded a document much chagrined, for the ranchero's word was as good as the best bond, even to the extent of a ship's cargo.

THE JUDICIARY BILL.

Its Origin, Private Discussion, Submission, Amendments and Passage.
In February, 1885, Senator M. D. Foley of Eureka introduced a bill making the State of Nevada one judicial district, with three judges instead of seven judges presiding over as many districts. Following is a history of the bill, as related by the Virginia Enterprise:

One morning Senator Westfield of Lyon walked into Governor Adams' office and found General Robert M. Clark sitting up and down the floor reading the draft of a bill. "Senator," said the General, "I have here a draft of a bill that I consider the very best thing that the State of Nevada. It will greatly reduce expenses and expedite litigation."

The senator read the bill and felt elated over it. Then Senator Briggs of White Pine came into the office, and then Senator Dennis of Elko. Both read the bill and all agreed to stand in for it, but concluded it was best to have it introduced by a Republican, and Senator Foley was chosen, while the Democratic Senators were not supposed to know anything about it. General Clarke saw Senator Foley, who grasped the idea earnestly and became its champion.

The bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee and drafts were printed and sent to every lawyer and judge in the State, and they were asked to suggest amendments. Some who sought office were opposed to the bill and thought it unconstitutional; others filled in amendments and the rest thought it was perfection condensed. The amendments suggested were reviewed, and one from W. E. F. Deal was adopted and the bill was made to conform with others. Then the bill was submitted to Judge Richard R. Hinkle, who suggested an amendment and then made remarks concerning it, so complimentary to its good qualities that it passed without trouble and became a law.

The Nevada Bank.

An executive meeting of the Directors of the Nevada Bank was held in San Francisco yesterday. The details of the business transacted have not transpired, but in banking circles it is known that ex-Senator Fair has been paid the balance of the $2,000,000 which the bank owed him. This squared the account between the old bonanza partners that had been unsettled, and Mackay, Flood and Fair have now arranged all their financial affairs as relating to each other completely and satisfactorily. It is stated that the $2,000,000 which Senator Fair received yesterday in settlement of his claims against the Nevada Bank represented the bulk of the money which he put into the concern to tide over the troubles caused by the wheat deal.

McClummet vs. Sutro Tunnel.

The interminable suit of McClummet Brothers vs. the Sutro Tunnel Company was on May 8th submitted before United States District Judge Sabin in San Francisco on briefs without argument. The amount involved has been increased from January, 1877, to date, including interest, from $124,321 to $1,636,725, the interest now being nearly $10,000. Plaintiffs are represented by Haggin & Dibble and Alexander & Green, and the defense by Samuel M. Wilson, Theodore Sutro, Edmund Taupsky and Colonel M. N. Stone. Counsel for plaintiff now ask the Court to adjudge that the election of the Sutro Tunnel Company, held May 4, 1884, for Directors, be declared void and a new election be ordered.

THE COW AND LAND STORY.

Mr. Stone's Rise to Explain the Trouble.
EDITOR GAZETTE.—In your issue of the 26th of April you devote some little space to "A neat little story about two Lander county stockmen," in which I easily recognize myself as Mr. Stone, and though given a very hard name, I am not a black-mailer, only a guileless idiot, who often tries to help those who are unworthy, and, of course, gets left. No better illustration could be given than the story so well told by Mr. Budd, which I will also tell, and it I vary from Mr. Budd's version I will not vary from the truth: Four years ago I missed a very fine young cow and an unbranded calf with her. Next spring, soon after Budd turned his cattle out of the field, one of my men told me that that cow had come home marked so and so. I said "No, there is some mistake; that is Budd's mark, and he is not getting cattle that way." But I found it was so, and I told Budd what I had found and he offered to pay me or give me another cow, but did not want to give that. Budd's action was taken until last fall, when, on my speaking to him about it, he had the liberality to offer me $50 for her. I told him no; that the cow was worth that when I lost her and the increase would have been something, and he could give me $100 or certain other stock that was in my field at the time, and he gave me the $100. It is a rule in business that great risks are entitled to corresponding profits, and I think all will agree that my risks were great.

Had I been so unscrupulous as my friend Budd and worked that thing for all it was worth, I could have made that cow pay for the land. Or had not my softness of heart overcome my sense of justice, I would have turned the matter over to the stock association, of which I was a member in good standing, and let him explain to them. The cow was very gentle, was marked and branded very plain, and if the President or any member of the Executive Committee of the Live Stock Association will say this is possible for a man to put a larger iron on over mine and cut my ear mark off accidentally, then I will pay M. Budd this money back and apologize to him. I think I have been very considerate of Mr. Budd's reputation in this matter and I can conceive why he should put the thing in the paper, except that he was very full of champagne or perhaps of gin.

The land transaction was about as stated, except the amount was thousands instead of hundreds, and was the legitimate return for the purchase of the Lander county bridge, such a character, and if Mr. Budd cares to blossom forth in any more "neat little stories" he has my permission to give the names in full. Very respectfully,

MR. STONE.
The Ranch, May 5, 1888.

[Mr. "Stone" is in error in attributing to Mr. "Budd" the authorship of the "neat little story" above alluded to. A well known citizen of Lander county related the story, in the most friendly manner, to a GAZETTE reporter, who thought it too good to keep out of print. No harm was meant in publishing it.—ED. GAZETTE.]

Lake Tahoe.

Very little water is flowing out of Lake Tahoe and the gates of the dam at the outlet are all raised. The water of the lake is lower than ever before, says the Truckee Republican, but there was a time before the advent of the whites when it was much lower than now. This fact is demonstrated in the following way: There is a large flat rock near the shore of the lake which is now above water, but which no white man can ever remember of having seen dry before. An inspection of the rock, however, discloses in its surface several large round holes, evidently made by Indians in punning scorn, and it is probable that years and years ago the natives used to grind acorns and pine-nuts on that rock, which must have been above water. Thus the water in Lake Tahoe must at some time in the past have been lower than now.

A Luckless Tramp.

Christy Farrell, a tramp, stole a flat-boat recently from the Southwestern Mining Company, operating in El Dorado canyon. In the southern portion of Lincoln county, and proceeded to drift down the Colorado river, his objective point being the land of evil and Gila monsters. He was pursued, overtaken, and brought to Phoenix, a distance of about 140 miles, in answer to the charge of grand larceny, as there is no justice of the Peace at El Dorado canyon. The flat-boat was worth about $5, but the cost to the county will probably be twenty times as much.

The Reduction Works.

John Howell, who as manager of the Reno Reduction Works, has placed that institution on the excellent basis it now enjoys, has resigned, and Archie Farrington, the well-known mining man of Esmeralda county, has been elected to the position, the change to take effect immediately. It is the intention of the Directors to increase the working facilities of the plant materially this summer so that all kind of ores can be worked expeditiously and profitably.

It entered the abdominal cavity, and the unfortunate youth remained impaled until help came, when he was lifted from his position in a fainting condition. It is thought the wound will prove fatal.

CUMMINS—VAUGHN.

A Matrimonial Event in Surprise Valley, Cal.

EAGLEVILLE, Cal., May 8. EDITOR GAZETTE.—A veritable marriage boom seems to have struck this section of the footstool, as there have been three or four hymeneal events of late in this (Surprise) valley.

To-day another wedding took place, the happy avain being Charles Cummins, son of the well-known T. J. Cummins of Colusa county and one of the cattle kings of Northern California, and the equally happy bride being Miss Lillie Vaughn, daughter of A. C. Vaughn, a well-to-do farmer of this valley. The wedding was solemnized by the Rev. H. W. Woods of Cedarville. The presents were numerous and comprised many costly as well as useful articles.

After the presentation of gifts and exchange of congratulations all present sat down to a sumptuous dinner, to which all did ample justice, especially your correspondent, who very seldom has such an opportunity to partake of the good things of life. EGYPT.

He Can't Get Away.

Dr. Prentice's business in Reno has increased to such an extent that it is not possible for him to leave, consequently he has extended his stay one week more, until Monday, May 14th. Persons afflicted with cross-eyes, deafness and catarrh should take this opportunity and get cured while there is yet a chance. Dr. Prentice will remain in Reno until Monday, May 14th.

A SENSATION.

Yesterday several of the leading citizens of Reno assembled at Dr. Prentice's office in the Lake House (Riverside Hotel), Reno, to satisfy themselves about the truth of the so-called wonderful operations. One of the operations that Dr. Prentice performed in the presence of these gentlemen was straightening the cross-eyes of Mr. Bishop. His eyes had been crossed twenty-two years. The patient seated himself in a chair and, in thirty seconds after Dr. Prentice touched the eyes they were perfectly straight, to the delight of the patient and admiration of the spectators. The local of this paper has witnessed several of these wonderful operations that Dr. Prentice has performed.

YOU WILL NEVER MISS THE WATER.

TILL THE WELL RUNS DRY.

On his return from his recent extensive tour through Europe, Dr. Prentice brought with him many valuable remedies used in the far east for the treatment of the eye, catarrh, deafness and many other chronic diseases. It is a common fault of the afflicted to put off, postpone and delay in attending to their ailments until it is too late. This precaution robs us of the pleasures, joys, and comforts of health during the better part of our lives, and leaves us to drag out a painful, diseased and curtailed existence. Dr. Prentice, with his valuable treatment and remedies, will be suitably missed when he leaves. He will only remain until Monday, May 14th. His offices are at the Lake House (Riverside Hotel), Reno, N. Va.

A House Divided.

The Democratic house is dreadfully divided against itself. The Cassidy influence and the cattlemen's enthusiasm are tugging at each other. Cassidy's experience as a campaigner and the tremendous sack which will be united for Harlin are weighed in the scale of availability, and it looks as though the sack is a little heavier. The Democratic party enjoy a moneyed fight, and it is liable to forget the experience and industry of its former favorite.—Enterprise.
